Strictly's halfway-point results leave fans divided

Metro says some fans on X think the wrong couple left after Saturday's show. Judges split 2-2 in the dance-off and Shirley Ballas's casting vote decided it. Bethany Antonia and Nancy Xu went out, after scoring 30 against Cach Mercer and Maddie Ingoldsby's 26 on Saturday. Dani Dyer topped the board with 36.

> Why it matters: A tight result with a casting vote. Strictly talk often runs all week.

M&S's Christmas ad has James Norton as a beardless Santa

M&S's ad, "The Home of Christmas", launched on Friday and runs about three minutes. James Norton's Santa shaves off his beard, with Lucy Punch as Mrs Claus and Katherine Jenkins singing a new version of "Heaven Is a Place on Earth". Famous Campaigns says it is the first M&S Christmas campaign to bring food, fashion, home and beauty together since 2017.

> Why it matters: A star-led ad people are still talking about three days on.

Queues for M&S's new cookie split social media

Videos on TikTok and Instagram show queues for M&S's Milk Chocolate & Cornflake cookie, launched on 4 Nov. Some commenters called the scenes "dystopian", others said it was "worth every second waited". Metro says it has asked M&S for comment. Claims of fighting are second-hand.

> Why it matters: A food launch turned into a shared moment. Videos did the selling.

Olivia Rodrigo's Christmas single sparks comparisons

Fans compared Olivia Rodrigo's new single "take me home (4 christmas)", released on 5 Nov, with "Christmas Wrapping" and Robbie Williams' "Candy". Williams then wished her a "happy Christmas" on X, which some read as shade. indy100 says neither camp has commented.

> Why it matters: A song, a rival and a fan theory. Christmas music is part of the season's feed.

Meta adds spaces to its Muse app

Meta says users can describe a custom experience in Muse and pin it to the sidebar. Its examples include a gift tracker, trivia game and wedding planner. The post says spaces are available “everywhere Muse is available”, and doesn’t say which countries that covers.

> Why it matters: Meta is turning an AI chat into an app builder. Not yet clear if the UK has it.

A specialist says Meta can show discounts it finds on your site

A Meta advertising specialist says Meta can show discounts it detects on a shop's website in Facebook and Instagram ads, even when promotions are off on the ad being copied. PPC Land says it is one practitioner's observation. The setting is in Commerce Manager, under Detected offers. Meta hasn't commented.

> Why it matters: Worth checking your settings if a client runs shopping ads.
